

The European Society of Air Safety Investigators

2012 Regional Air Safety Seminar Air Accident Investigation in the European Environment

Thursday 19th and Friday 20th April 2012
in Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Following the continued success of its seminars the European Society of Air Safety Investigators is pleased to announce the dates for its 5th Air Safety Seminar to be held in Amsterdam. With emphasis on current European issues in the investigation and prevention of accidents and incidents, the two-day seminar is aimed at accident investigation professionals and will provide an opportunity to update professional knowledge and skills, as well as to meet other active air safety investigators.

Presentations will address current issues in European environment and the challenges of modern air safety investigations. The presentation programme will be available early in 2012. The two day programme will take place at the Dutch National Aerospace Laboratory (NLR) which is the key centre of expertise for aerospace technology in The Netherlands. Hotel accommodation has been arranged at the EDEN Hotel Amsterdam at 145 Euros per night to include breakfast. Transport will be provided from the hotel to the NLR.

Amsterdam has been called the "Venice of the North" for its more than one hundred kilometres of canals, about 90 islands and 1,500 bridges.

The Seminar programme will include an evening reception with a dinner cruise on the canals providing a unique perspective on the city. Companions are welcome to attend the dinner cruise..
